Time to Crab

By Walt Munson

"Oh, you students make me sick, always fretting about flunking your algebra exams or somethin' . . . you don't hear me worrying about my career in the steam laundry, do you?"

Time to Crab

By Walt Munson

"Well—I'll wear this thing tonight to please you, but see that MY PAJAMAS get back from the laundry tomorrow!"

Time to Crab

By Walt Munson

"Remember, now, the lady from the Charity Welfare will be here today; not a word about mother getting a permanent wave, or daddy subscribing for the correspondence-school banjo and lessons!"

Time to Crab

By Walt Munson

AMATEUR LEAGUE FOLLIES

"Say, boss; you'll have to put on an extra hand . . . y'know that's tough work hoisting the Fairy Princess up in the clouds."

Time to Crab

By Walt Munson

"Too expensive? I hope, Madam, you don't expect me to undersell the Mid-West farmer or the Wall Street fruit exchange!"